The TITANIAN brings you a pictorial arrangement which records the seriousness, the gaiety, and the enthusiasm of our school life. Here is the campus as you remember it: the teachers' endless work; the activities and organizations that claimed your time; the friendly, casual people; the exhilarating sports; and the seniors you will miss next fall. All are memories that will continue to live in your 1960 TITANIAN.

"I consider it a great honor to be elected A. S. B, president of San Marino High School, and I only hope that I have and will be able to represent S.M.H.S. in the way the student body would want me to." Don certainly did live up to his words. He led us, represented us, and was never too busy to be a warm and sympathetic friend on campus. He was a diplomat upon all occasions, yet proved to us that he was firm to his convictions.

student council

The student council was composed of all of the A. S. B. officers, all of the class presidents, the Girls' League president, the Boys' Forum president, and a representative from the Titan Shield. It was advised by Norman Frost and headed by the A. S. B. president, Don Allen.

As with any governing body, our student council didn't realize the vast amount of business they would be handling until they were members. There were discussions as minute as the kind of Titan G. A. L. should have on their decals, and as monumental as what to do about the student body's spirit and attitude in assemblies. There were problems discussed and policies decided which had, and will have effect upon all the students at San Marino High.

The House of Representatives is a young organization at San Marino High. This was its second year. A representative was elected by each English class, thereby representing almost everyone in the school. They discussed the problems of student council, and the representatives brought some of their own. The results were carried back to student council by Denny Geiler, House of Representatives president and ASB vice-president. The House did not form policies, but it expressed a strong voice in forming them and involved more people in the business of school government.

A principal sometimes reaches the end of a school year with varied feelings and impressions. He shares with freshmen a feeling of relief that it is finally over; he looks forward with the sophomores to better things in the future; he resolves with the juniors to do a better job next year; he experiences with the seniors a twinge of sadness that the end has arrived; and with anticipation clouded slightly by delusion he looks forward with the teachers to summer of relaxation and study.

But, in general—and particularly at San Marino High School—this principal looks back on a year filled with pleasant experiences and warm memories. This, of course, is the result of having had the opportunity to observe and work with students and teachers distinguished by their friendliness, enthusiasm, and accomplishments.

For me this book will become a prized possession, for in a significant way it will preserve these very pleasant memories and experiences.

The principal, the two vice-principals, and the head counselor form an administrative council which meets once a week to determine policies and make plans.

The work of the vice-principals is composed of many duties which involve associations with students, teachers, parents, and college representatives. Some of their duties are girls' and boys' discipline, student clubs, ASB social and athletic functions, the AA program, the school activity calendar, textbooks and lockers, assemblies, college information, and AFS selections. No two days are alike in their offices.

The work of the counselors involves individual student counseling, student's class schedules, the testing program, aid with college applications, and freshman orientation classes. Their days, also, are busied and varied!

Last year at this time I was graduating from the eighth grade. So much has happened in a year! The year went by quickly, yet I feel much older. It was a long time ago that our class planned the Charity Ball on December 5th with the sophomores. Our own class dance in the spring was fun. The whole student body had a good time at our annual sign party. It's hard to believe how bewildering high school seemed last fall; it's almost sad to think that it will never be that way again. But since the first year was so great—the next three years should be even greater!

I'm an upperclassman next year! To think I'm half way through my high school career. Have I accomplished half of what I want out of high school? Have I lived up to all the hopes and plans I had for it? I'll have to do twice as much in the next two years! My class has been active as underclassmen. We sponsored the Icebreaker dance after the first home football game. The juice machine was our money-making project until it had to be taken away. My class and the Freshman Class sponsored the Winter Wonderland dance on December 5th. We held a carwash and sponsored the Care project in the spring. I'm looking forward to being an upperclassman—I hope I will be a good one.

Is it possible? Only one more year of high school?! Then where will I be? The past year has been hectic at times, but it has been a good year. After we enlarged the concession stand, business really improved. It was fun to work in it—especially the free popcorn! I remember the day we got our long-awaited class rings. We really showed up the mighty (?) seniors by defeating them in the traditional tug-o-war! The student directories were brilliant—though late. The day we ordered our senior sweaters made next year seem very close. Finally, what we waited and worked for all year—the prom. Who can forget that? I'm now to be a mighty senior. I hope I'll live up to the respect the title earns.

Because S.M.H.S. had chosen "Titans" as their nickname, the first members of San Marino's service club chose Prometheans as their name. According to Greek mythology, Prometheus, one of the Titan gods, first gave the gift of fire to man.

The name is fitting for the club, because the Promethean members are known for giving spirit, honor, and enthusiasm to the student body. This year the club's main projects were ushering assemblies and other school events, inspiring a big clean-campus drive, and working out the details of the annual work day, which earns money for student body scholarships.

"Walk together, talk together, O ye peoples of the earth. Then and only then shall you have peace." Thousands of students have gone throughout the world carrying this motto—the motto of the American Field Service. They have each acted as ambassadors of peace by making friends in all parts of the earth. The program is in two parts. Foreign students come to the U. S. and live with American families for their senior year. The other part is known as Americans Abroad. During the summer before their senior year, students from America go to a foreign land and become a part of a foreign family.

Confusion reigns! Where's that picture of the office staff? Are we going to get the sports section in? Who's going out to Yearbooks Inc.? How's copy coming? Who'll do the ID's on page 233? The pictures are the wrong size for page 90. Can we afford to change the layout? Do you think we can send out the annual by August? The postage would be too expensive!

The Titan distance men had their most successful season this year. With the fine coaching of Mr. Bradford the team had a good record. The practice meets were highlighted by a convincing win over Monrovia. The team opened the league by beating Temple City. They then dropped th next two meets to strong teams from Norwalk and Artesia. The best meet of the year was an exciting 28-27 victory over So. Pas. As the teams lined up for the league finals, Artesia had undisputed first place in the league, and San Marino, So. Pas., and Norwalk were tied for second with 2-2 records. With strong efforts from every team member the Titans took second in the finals behind Artesia and therefore won second in the league for the season. The JV's also had a fine season, finishing in a tie for second place. The hard work also paid off later in the year when it helped cross country men break records in track and swimming.

The "JV" baseball team who were strong contenders in the Rio Hondo League were led by such outstanding players as Steve Gill and brother Phil, Ricky Bliss, Tom Schriber, Len Celeya, and Mark Foss. These boys, along with the others on the team made this an outstanding season for the "hideballers." They will be first or second in the league with such convincing wins as a 31-9 victory over Norwalk. This team lived up to the great reputation that Mr. Kurlak's teams always have.

Coach Wayne Kurlak

J.V. first baseman Steve Gill takes throw in time to put opponent out.

Big swing by J.V. produces a lot of air. J.V. beat opponents.

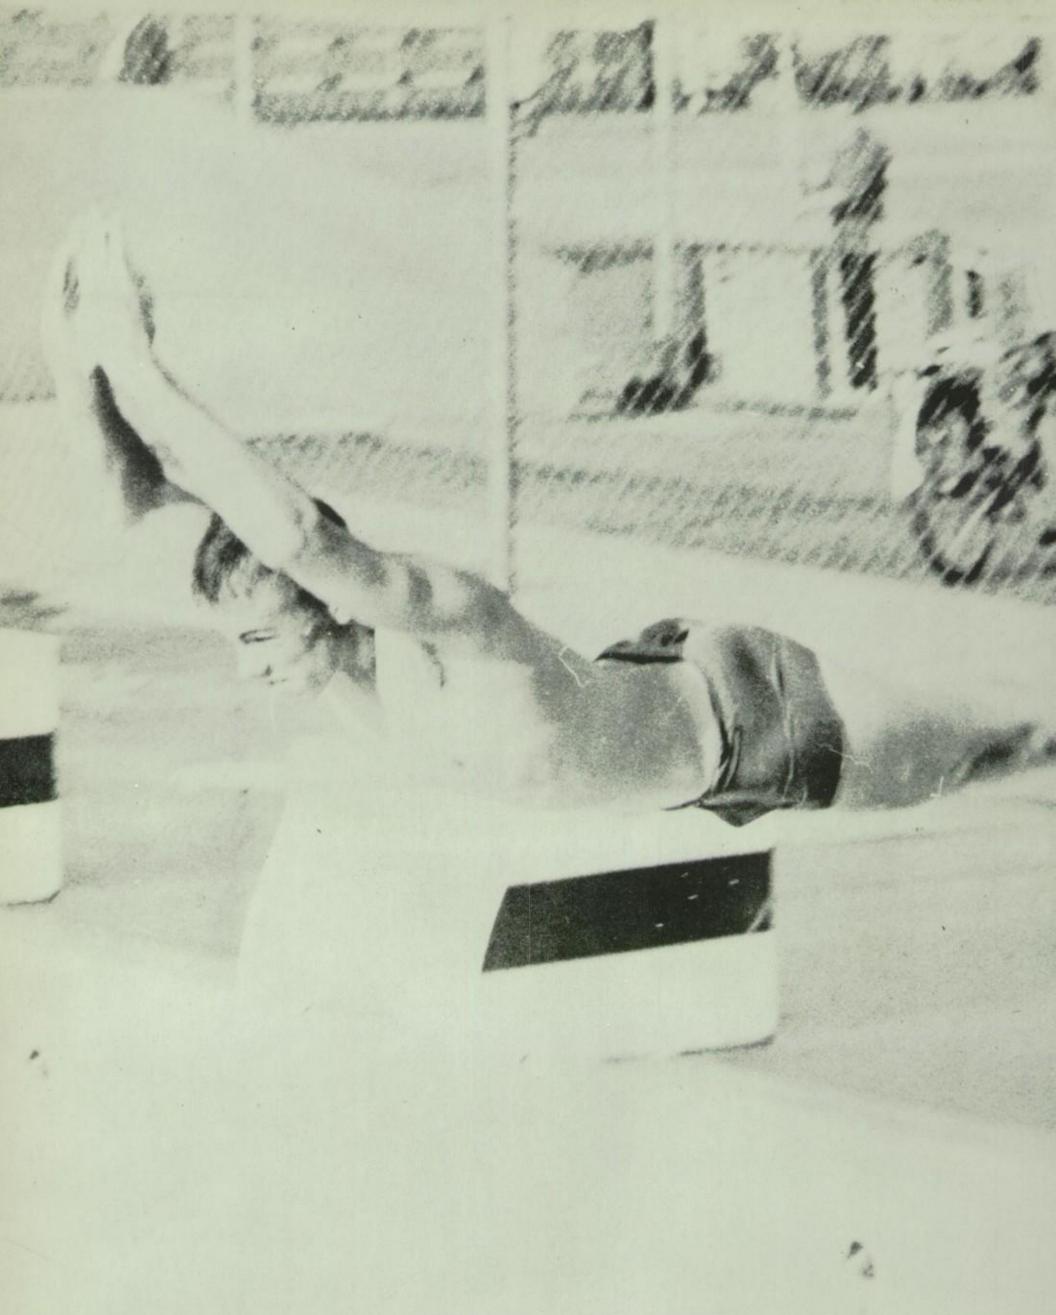

The opposition's pitcher breaks down under the Titan's barage.

swimming

Steve Garrett—co-captain—200 yd. freestyle and 100 yd. freestyle.

Dave Sandor—co-captain—50 yd. freestyle and 200 yd. individual medley.

Coach Fred Heffner

The Titan swimming team continued the tradition established in 1956 and swept through the league undefeated and won all three divisions at the league finals for the third year in a row. The Titans only lost three meets this year to three strong C.I.F. schools. These schools were among the top five last year in the C.I.F.

Exciting construction of the gyms while schools was in session.

Construction on what used to be Carver's playground

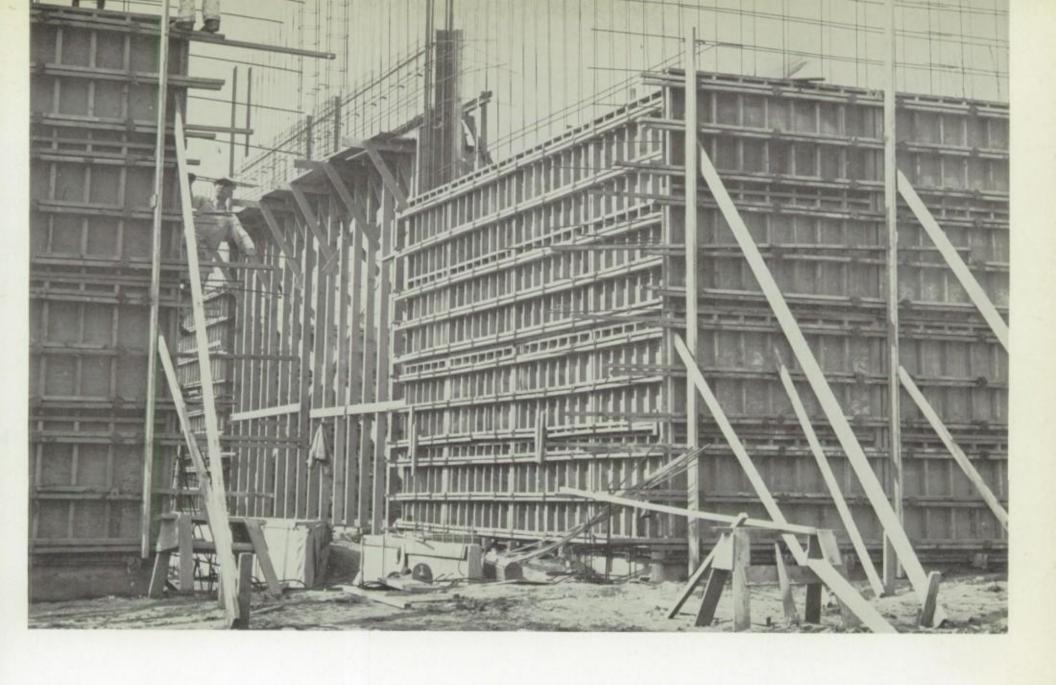

san marino high school

San Marino High School—a dream in the minds of San Marinians. The joint San Marino-South Pasadena High School was getting too overcrowded. A large amount of the income for the school was coming from San Marino City taxes. For many years San Marinians had talked of forming a new high school.

In 1953 San Marino High School began. The first year was the old San Marino City library, using facilities of Huntington School. The following summer construction was begun on a new campus for Carver School and on the old Carver School campus for San Marino High School. In the fall of 1954 classes were begun on the new campus, though construction of the gyms and of the auditorium was still in progress.

Initiative and effort went into the first year of San Marino High. Titans was unanimously voted as our nickname. The constitution was written and adopted. Clubs and committees were organized. The first football queen was Sherrie Keiser. School curriculum was begun. Sports were started.

The second year of San Marino High saw San Marino High School, California linked to San Marino, Italy by a seal. A newly constructed campus was occupied Boys' Forum and Girls' League, the Titan band, the Titan Guide, outstanding student elections, a school newspaper, and more sports were established.

Expansion and growth marked the third year at San Marino High School. The faculty increased to meet demands of students and classes. Organizations and activities had increased threefold from the originals. A junior varsity schedule was played by our football team, and they proved to be undefeated. A varsity schedule was played by our basketball team. The pep of the school was enhanced by a pep commission and a drill team. We also had more assemblies, dances, and plays.

This was the year of the first graduating class. AFS students were exchanged. The football team won the CIF championship. The basketball team won the Rio Hondo League Championship. The seniors graduated with regret that the years of fun, learning, and adventure were over—with a feeling of pride that they had formed the traditions and standards of San Marino High School. With the first class, graduated the first principal, Walter Dingus.

William C. Higman was the new principal. The juniors sponsored a junior-senior prom for the seniors. The year was renowned for dramatic talent. The basketball team won the Rio Hondo League championship. The student body won the Rio Hondo League sportsmanship trophy.

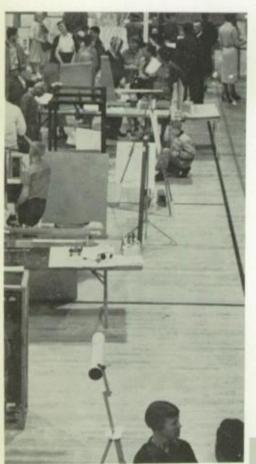

This senior class is remembered for their enthusiasm, originality, character, and achievement. Scholars won awards. The football team won the CIF championship. The basketball team won the Rio Hondo League championship. Actors produced memorable dramas, and musicians outstanding music. Leaders organized and led well. It was a year not to be forgotten.

This senior class was effervescent of friendliness and originality. A senior advisory committee was begun. The House of Representatives was added to student government. The football team was the Rio Hondo League champion. The basketball team was the CIF champion. Eric Volrath won first place in the National Science Fair. The principal, William C. Higman, graduated along with the seniors.

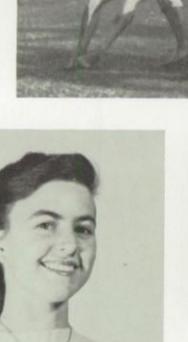

We started the year with a new principal, Mr. John Landrum. The year had many original and successful dances, especially the senior class dance. The new dramatics teacher, Mr. Clopper, initiated the production of some very outstanding and professional plays—"Mrs. McThing," "Stage Door," and three one-acts. The senior lunch court was begun but used by the juniors. 1960's pep commission did an outstanding job of stimulating school spirit Among the winners from our science fair, we had the winner of the San Gabriel Valley science fair and two craftsmanship awards. A new tradition was started with great success—the seniors took over the duties of running the school for a day.
